Rheumatism.— When this disease has assumed a chronic character and has been standing for several years it will sometimes prove very difficult to cure without treating it internally sand externally at the same time; and in such cases Prout's Compound should be taken night and morning while using the Liniment; and if this course be pursued it seldom or never fails to cure the most obstinate stages of the complaints.

In the other affections, such as stiffness and swelling of the joints, pains in the side and small of the back, originating from a sprain or deep-seated cold. In these affections it is only necessary to have recourse to the Liniment; by rubbing the parts well with it and applying a piece of flannel around them, it invariably removes this unpleasant complaint. In cases of stiffness of the neck and sore throat, it will prove equally efficacious and give permanent relief.

To Rheumatic Invalids.—Amidst the various ills to which the human frame is subject, there can be none more tormenting in its effects than a severe attack of the Rheumatism; hence we would refer our readers to the advertisement of Thomas Prout, chemist in another column; by this they will perceive that the remedy so successfully employed in this complaint by the late Doctor Prout is now prepared for the public by his nephew.

From the enviable celebrity which the Doctor acquired by his skilful practice, there is no doubt but his remedy will be sought after with avidity by all who are thus afficted; for ourselves, we can safely vouch for its efficacy, as we have derived great advantage from its use.

ET THE LATE MAYOR of Philadelphia has certified under seal of the city to the character of several Divines, Physicians, and gentlemen of high sanding who declare positively under their hands (all of which may be seen at the place named below) that the Balm of Columbia is not only a certain preservative, but positively a restorative of the human hair; also, a sure cure for Dandriff. PILES, DROPSY, SWELLINGS, ALL SORES, RHEUMATISM.—It is absolutely asserted on the most positive proof, that the above complaints are arrested and cured by the timely use of Hay's Liniment. It is impossible to find room in this paper to present those proofs which are conclusive and convincing. They may be seen at length as below.

BALDNESS.—A begutiful head of hair is the grand-est ornament belonging to the human frame. How est ornament belonging to the human frame. How strangely the loss of it changes the countenance, and prematurely brings on the appearance of old age, which causes many to recoil at being uncovered, and sometimes even shun society to avoid the jests and sneers of their acquaintance; the remainder of their lives is consequently spent in retirement. In short, not even the loss of property fills the generous thinking youth with that heavy sinking gloom as does the loss of his bair. To avert all these unpleasant circumstances, OLDRIDGE'S BALM OF COLUMBIA stops the hair from falling off on the first application, and a few bottles restores it again. It likewise produces eyebrows and whiskers; prevents the hair from sturning gray, makes it curl beautifully, and frees it from scurt. Numerous certificates of the first respectability in support of the virtues of Oldridge's Balm are shown by the proprietors.

ALBANY LOCK HOSPITAL.

Dr. COOKE.

THE unfortunate are respectfully informed that the Abany Lock Hospital, established and modelled after the much celebrated European Lock Hospitals, has many years since been founded at Head Quarters, No. 3 Norton street, Albany, N. Y. To those unacquainted with this institution, it is necessary to mention that it has for its object the cure of all such diseases, as syphilis, scrofula, strictures, diseases of the urethra, lumbago, flour albus, impotency, diseases of the womb, seminal weakness of both sexes, nodes, caries of the hones, genorrhon, gleets, with all venerial complaints in general, etc. etc.

Persons, ignorant of the nature of Disease, are not sware that many stages mark its progress from the commencement to its full development, originating in a most simple form, and through neglect or injudicious treatment, assume a more aggravated state of disease, and occasion abscess, ulceration, pseudo syphilis, cancer, premature old age, too often ending in a protracted incurable state of miserable existence.

This institution is under the superintendence and management of Professors Cooke, M. D., D. D., LL. D., of the city of Albany, N. Y., who will give his personal attendance at the Dispensary, attached to the Institution, at all hours to invalids requiring his professional services, He having had much more experience in this branch of medical practice than usually falls to the lot of any one member of the profession, therefore feels such confidence of his ability to give universal satisfaction, that he assures all applicants, none need despair of a complete recovery.

The unfortunate therefore, who have suffered from the want of success by those less experienced, are invited to visit the Hospital, which only requires to be known to be sure of support, where the most perfect scerecy may be depended on, and the utmost privacy will attend those who call. The whole house is exclusively appropriated to the use of patients, who will always be received into separate apartments, and at no time, unless at the request of the patient, will a third party be permitted to be present.

Present.
Professor COOKE has a number of handsomely furnished private chambers, at No 33 Green street, where he will receive gentlemen who may require medical aid. Residing himself on the premises, he will thereby be enabled to dedicate more than ordinary attention to his patients. Gentlemen will find it both convenient, as well as economical in all causes of disease, to retire to these funished mical, in all cases of disease, to retire to these furnished

The Pectoral Essence of Boneset, universally known as an excellent cough medicine, is prepared at this institution. Its efficacy being decidedly superior to any specific extant, is every where recommended in all cases of coughs, colds, asthma, croup, hooping cough, as well as in all complaints of the chest and lungs. RICHMOND, Virginia, July 15, 1830.

THE PUBLIC will be pleased to understand that I was the original discoverer of Judkins' Oinment, and sole proprietor of the patent from September, 1817, until the expiration of the same; but his ing connected myself with Dr. Judkins in the commencement, I permitted the Ointment to bear his name. The term of the patent having expired on the 26th June, I have made an improvement in the same, and taken out a patent thereon.

Being aware that the Ointment would occasionally fall into many hands, some of whom would probably undertake to make it, and knowing the difficulty of the process nevertheless, it might in some degree resemble the original—and in this way its good effects would be obliterated. Under these considerations, I secured the original and certain remedy for those obstinate diseases, some of which have so long baffled the skill of medical science.

Mr. C. You may publish this for the benefit of those who may be in my situation. I can confidently say it is one of the best medicines in the world for healing cuts, bruises, &c.

Doctor W. Genton: Sir: I now undertake to do what I should have done long since Two or three years my wife was afflicted with what the doctors call carbuncles on her back, and her sufferings from which for two months, were beyond all description; they broke at different times into from fifty to one hundred holes, and when the cores were extracted and the skin cut off, the places became one large sore, about six inches in circumference, and were then an inch in depth. She was attended by one of the first physicians in this city, and various remedies were tried without rendering her any relief, or preventing the sores from increasing in size to such a degree, that we became seriously apprehensive that she would not survive much longer. A friend calling to see her one day, and advising the use of Judkins' now Shepherd's Patent Specific Ointment, I procured some, and however incredible it may appear, yet such is the fact, two plasters effected a perfect cure.

Yours respectfully,

G. CRANDELL.

Yours respectfully,

From the Hon. John Talliaferro, member of Congress.

Washington, Jan. 22, 1829.

To Mr. C. Herston, Frederick City, Md.

Sir: It has been my wish, for a considerable time, to communicate to you the good effect with which I have used the ointment invented by Mr. Judkins, (patented now in the United States, Shepherd's Specific Ointment, and which I now understand is made and sold by agents appointed by yourself. I have applied this ointment, during the last three years, to every species of tumour or wound, without failure to produce a cure every instance. I consider it the most decided and efficient remedy in all cases of tumor, be the case what it may. I have found nothing so good for wounds of any description. It may be proper to add that the cure of a tumor called White Swelling, given over by the most distinguished physicians as incurable, and which they decided would, without amputation, prove fatal to the patient, was, under my immediate notice effected by the use of the Ointment, and the leg of an aged man, which had been wounded, and exhibited one dreadful ulcerated surface from the knee to the foot, and which for more than two years had been considered incurable, was effectually cured by the application of the Ointment. I mention these two cases which fell under my immediate notice, and management, as a decided evidence of the clineacy of this remedy in cases of tumors and of ulcers. I have experienced as decidedly the good effect of this remedy in the cure of felons, and of every species of flesh wounds. It seems to me that any one who will observe the operations of this Ointment, must be satisfied as to its beneficial effects. I can with the utmost confidence, recommend the use of this valuable remedy. I am, sir, very respectfully.

LETTER TO DR. GREEN.

DEAR FRIEND:—Some three years since, I made application to you to restore my hearing and eye-sight and, at the same time, for a friend of mine, Mr. Norton (caro) who was afflicted with a great degree of deafness. I mention these circumstances, to bring the matter fresh to your mind. We received your remedy, followed the prescriptions and were soon restored to the use of our cars and eyes—our general health also improved in the mean time, by the excellent advlee you gave us on the sub-ect of health and long life.

A young man applied to me a few days since for information; he is afflicted with weak eyes, medical men here in our parts of the world, tell him that the optic nerve is weak. I immediately referred him to you, as the only man in the circle of v y acquaintiance, who could give relief in such cases; and he not conveniently able to write, I concluded to write myself, and at the same time enclose your customary five dollar fee, and request that which is necessary will quickly be sent on.

Be kind and send to me one of your pamphlets on the subjects of health, temperance and long life.

Yours, in friendship,

Granville. Ohio, September 10th, 1838.

PROSPECTUS OF THE SOUTHERN LITERARY MESSENGER

THOMAS W. WHITE, EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

THIS IS A MONTHLY MAGAZINE, devoted chiefly to literature, but occasionally finding room for articles that fall within the scope of Science; and not professing an entire disdain of tasteful selections, thoug its matter has been, as it will continue to be, in the majoriginal.

Party politics and controversial theology, as far as possible, are jealously excluded. They are sometimes a blended with discussions in literature or in moral science otherwise unobjectionable, as to gain admittance or the sake of the more valuable matter to which they adhere but whenever that happens, they are indended only; no primary. They are dross, tolerated only because it can not well be severed from the sterling ore wherewith it incorporated. THOMAS W. WHITE, EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

primary. They are dross, tolerated only because it can not well be severed from the sterling ore wherewith it incorporated.

Reviews and Critical Notices occupy their due spain the work; and it is the editor's aim that they shoul have a threefold tendency—to convey in a condensed form, such valuable truths or interesting incidents as are embodied in the works reviewed,—to direct the reader's attention to books that deserve to be read,—and to wan him against wasting time and money upon that large number, which merit only to be burned. In this age of publications, that by their variety and multitude distract and overwhelm every undiscriminating student, impartial criticism, governed by the views just mentioned, is one of the most inestimable and indispensable of auxiliaries, to him who does wish to discriminate.

Essays and Tales, having in view utility or amusement, or both,—Historical Sketches,—and Reminiscences of events too minute for history, yet clucidating it, and heightening its interest,—may be regarded as forming the staple of the work. And of indigenous poetry, enough is published—sometimes of no mean strain—to manifest and cultivate the growing poetical taste and talents of our country.

The times appear, for several reasons, to demand such lished—sometimes of no mean strain—to manifest and to cultivate the growing poetical taste and talents of our country.

The times appear, for several reasons, to demand such a work—and not one alone, but many. The public mind is feverish and irritated still, from recent political strifes; The soft, assuasive influence of literature is needed, to allay that fever, and soothe that irritation. Vice and folly are rioting abroad: They should be driven by indignant rebuke, or lashed by ridicule, into their fitting haunts. Ignorance lords it over an immense proportion of our people. Every spring should be set in motion, to arouse the enlightened, and to increase their number; so that the great enemy of popular government may no longer brood, like a portentous cloud, over the destinies of our country. And to accomplish all these ends, what more powerful agent can be employed than a periodical, on the plan of the Messenger; if that plan be but carried out in practice.

The South, peculiarly, requires such an agent. In all the Union, south of Washington, there are but two literary periodicals! Northward of that city, there are probably at least twenty-five or thirty! Is this contrast justified by the wealth, the lessure, the native talent, or the actual literary taste of the Southern people, compared with those of the Northern! No: for in wealth, talents, and taste, we may justly claim at least an equality with our brethren; and a domestic institution exclusively our own, beyond all doubt affords us, if we choose, twice the leisure for reading and writing, which they enjoy.

It was from a deep sense of this local want, that the word Southern was engrafted on the name of this periodical; and not with any design to nourish local prejudices, or to advocate supposed local interests. Far from any such thought, it is the editor's fervent wish to see the North and South bound endearingly together forever, in the silken bands of mutual kindness and affection. Far from meditating hostility to the North, he has already drawn, and lowering clouds that now threaten the peace of both, and to brighten and strengthen the sacred ties of fraterna love.

The Southern Literary Messenger has now reached the fifth No. of its third volume. How far it has acted out the ideas here uttered, it is not for the editor to say. He believes, however, that it falls not further short of them than human weakness usually makes practice fall short of them.

The Messenger is issued monthly. Each number of the work contains 64 large super-royal pages, printed in the very handsomest manner, on new type, and on paper equal at least to that on which any other periodical is equal at least to that on which any other periodical is printed in our country.

No subscription will be received for less than a volume, and must commence with the current one. The price is $5 per volume, which must be paid in all cases at the time of subscribing. This is particularly adverted to now to avoid misapprehension, or future misunderstanding—as no order will hereafter be attended to unless accompanied with the price of subscription.

The postage on the Messenger gle No. for all distances unde miles—over 100 miles—ten cents.
